

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete this form. Once you have completed this form we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

Several provisions of the Migration Act 1958 require you to inform the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (the department) of any incorrect information that you may have given:

- in your visa application;
- on a passenger card; or
- in response to a notice given to you by the department inviting you to comment on possible non-compliance with an obligation to correct incorrect information.

This obligation remains even if you are subsequently granted a visa.

This form should be used to inform the department of incorrect information that you may have provided in one of the situations outlined above. Should you wish to notify the department of any change in your circumstances, which means that information you have previously provided to the department in a application is no longer correct, you should use form 1022 Notification of changes in circumstances.

You must answer all questions on this form.

WARNING:

- If you do not comply with requirements to advise the department of incorrect information and give correct answers, your visa is liable to be cancelled under the Migration Act 1958.
- If you have been granted a visa, the information you provide on this form will be taken into account in deciding whether you should continue to hold that visa.
- If you are an applicant for a visa which has not yet been granted, the information you provide on this form will be taken into account when assessing your visa application.
- If your visa is cancelled and you are in Australia, you will become an unlawful non-citizen. Unless you are granted a further visa, you will be detained and removed from Australia.
- If your visa is cancelled and you are outside Australia, and you subsequently travel to Australia, you will be refused immigration clearance and will be removed from Australia.
- Cancellation of a visa that already has been granted is not automatic. If you are in Australia, you will be given an opportunity to comment on the grounds for possible cancellation before a final decision on cancellation is made.

About the information you give

The department is authorised to collect information provided on this form under Part 2 of the Migration Act 1958 'Control of Arrival and Presence of Non-Citizens'. The information provided will be used for assessing whether or not you have complied with the requirements to provide correct information under the Migration Act, and for other purposes relating to the administration of the Migration Act, for example, to assist migrants with settling in Australia or for ensuring compliance with visa conditions.

The information provided might also be disclosed to other agencies. You should read the information form 993i Safeguarding your personal information, which is available from your nearest office of the department, or from where you collected this form, so that you can be better informed about the agencies to which your personal information might be disclosed, and the reasons for disclosure.

Relevant information about you will be disclosed to federal, state and territory police to assist in your location and possible detention in the event that you become an unlawful non-citizen. You will become an unlawful non-citizen if your visa ceases (by cancellation for breach of a visa condition for example) or expires and you do not hold another visa authorising you to remain in Australia.

The collection, access, storage, use and disclosure by the department of the information you provide in this form is governed by the Privacy Act 1988 and, in particular, by the 11 Information Privacy Principles. The information form 993i Safeguarding your personal information, available from offices of the department or from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/, gives details of agencies to which your personal information might be disclosed.
