- Step 3 Copy and certify your documents
- Step 4 Complete and lodge your application form

The citizenship website provides more detailed information www.citizenship.gov.au

In Australia – The Citizenship Information Line provides recorded information and access to information officers. Telephone 131 880 Monday to Friday 8.30am – 4.30pm.

Outside Australia – The citizenship website provides the location, hours of operation and telephone numbers for offices of the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (the department) outside Australia.

Integrity of application

The department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. Please be aware that if you provide us with fraudulent documents or claims, this may result in processing delays and possibly your application being refused.

Step 1 – Eligibility

Australian citizens 18 years and over can apply to renounce their Australian citizenship.

Australia is a signatory to the United Nations Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness. Consequently, your application to renounce your Australian citizenship will not be approved unless you provide evidence that you are a citizen of another country, or that on renunciation you will acquire the citizenship of another country.

Citizenship ceases on the date the application is approved.

Children

Children can apply to renounce Australian citizenship, only if they were born or are ordinarily resident in a foreign country and are not entitled, under the law of that country, to acquire the nationality or citizenship of that country because they are Australian citizens.

Applications for children under 16 years of age must be made by a responsible parent.

If you are the responsible parent of a child when your Australian citizenship ceases, consideration may be given to revoking the citizenship of any children under the age of 18 years, unless:

- the other responsible parent is still an Australian citizen, or
- doing so would render them stateless.

The Australian Citizenship Act 2007 defines responsible parent in relation to a child as:

- a parent, unless that parent does not have parental responsibility because of orders made by the Family Court of Australia, or
- any person having responsibility over the child because of an order made by the Family Court, or
- any person who has guardianship or custody of the child under an Australian law or a foreign law, whether because of adoption, operation of law, an order of a court or otherwise.

Step 2 – Original documents

You will need to provide the department with a range of documents to prove that you are who you say you are. These documents are called proof of identity documents.

You will also need to provide additional documents that show evidence of your Australian citizenship and your citizenship of another country. These are called supporting documents.

Translations and certified copies

If your documents are not in English, you must provide official translations. In Australia, you must use translators accredited by the National Accreditation Authority of Translators and Interpreters. For more information, see www.naati.com.au

Home page www.citizenship.gov.au

Citizenship
Information Line Telephone 131 880 during business hours in Australia to speak to an operator (recorded information available outside these hours). If you are outside Australia, please contact your nearest Australian mission.

Certified copies of original documents must be attached to your application. These copies must be certified by a person with the appropriate authority. See Identity declarations – list of professions on page 5 for people who may certify documents.

If you are outside Australia when applying, contact the Australian diplomatic mission in the country who issued the documents for advice on acceptable translators, and who can certify your original documents.

Proof of identity

Applicants 16 years of age or over

You must provide the following documents to prove your identity.

- Three original documents that collectively show your:
 - photograph
 - signature
 - current residential address
 - date of birth, birth name and any changes of name.
- Part E – Identity declaration* completed by a person with the appropriate authority.

If you do not provide these documents, your application will not be accepted and will be returned to you.
